A grayscale silhouette of a person stands in the center, facing away from the viewer. Their right arm is raised, with the hand touching one of the hexagonal units of a large, interconnected molecular structure. The structure is composed of blue and teal hexagons, some of which are outlined in gold. Thin gold lines radiate from the vertices of the hexagons, creating a network-like pattern. The word "Demo" is written in a large, black, sans-serif font across the person's torso.
